ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF SECURITY REQUIREMENTS

UMBC Training Centers requires a background check as a precondition to taking the Certified Cyber Analyst/Operator program [this course]. Additionally, you should be aware that, because of the sensitivity of many of the jobs in the cybersecurity field, many government and private employers may require the disclosure of certain additional personal information such as criminal background, history of drug or alcohol use, financial information, and association with individuals in foreign countries, among others. The responses to such requests for information may disqualify you from employment with those potential employers. Before you take [this course] you should first research the potential background check requirements for the sectors in which you intend to seek employment and make your own determination regarding whether you will be able to meet such requirements.

Additionally, if you intend to apply for employment with the federal government or a government contractor, they may require you to apply for a government security clearance as a precondition to employment. Various reasons exist for why someone may be denied a security clearance. Every case is individually assessed, using the National Security Board's 13 Adjudicative Guidelines, to determine whether the granting or continuing of eligibility for a security clearance is clearly consistent with the interests of national security. The adjudicative guidelines include, without limitation:

- (1) allegiance to the United States;
- (2) foreign influence;
- (3) foreign preference;
- (4) sexual behavior;
- (5) personal conduct;
- (6) financial considerations;
- (7) alcohol consumption;
- (8) drug involvement;
- (9) emotional, mental, and personality disorders;
- (10) criminal conduct;
- (11) security violations;
- (12) outside activities; and
- (13) misuse of information technology systems.

You should be aware that, to the extent that you cannot obtain a security clearance, your employment opportunities with the federal government or a government contractor may be severely limited.

I am in receipt of and have read this document.
